GOPs Pass Up War as Big Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — The two top Republicans in the House said today they are advising GOP congressional candidates against making the Viet Nam war their chief campaign issue this fall.
But both Rep. Gerald R. Ford, the House GOP leader, and Rep. Melvin R. Laird, chairman of the House GOP Conference, agreed that the war will play a major role in the congressional campaign in which all 435 House seats and 35 Senate seats will be at stake.
"I think Viet Nam is going to be a liability to any incumbent — Democrat or Republican," Ford said in an interview. He noted that Democrats hold 2-1 majorities in both House and Senate and therefore are likely to be most affected.

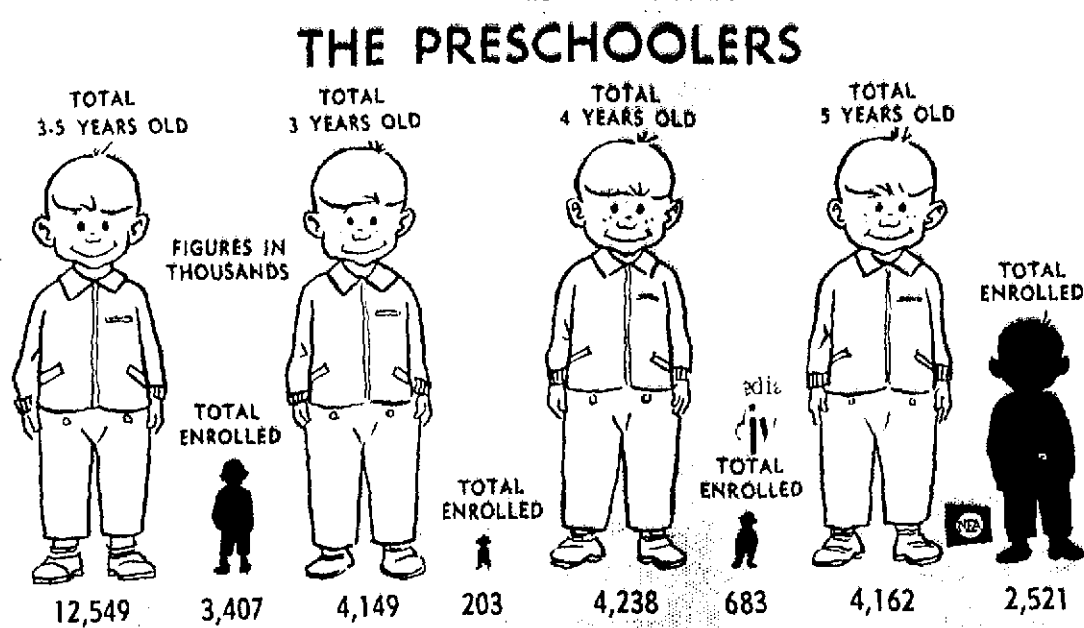

Laird said in a separate interview many of the nearly 100 GOP House candidates who came here earlier this month to get campaign advice wanted to emphasize Viet Nam in their campaigns. His advice, he said, was to play up domestic issues such as inflation.

"I cautioned them not to make Viet Nam their No. 1 issue," Laird said. "I told them there's only one man who decides that issue — the President. He calls the tune on it."

"He really understands the power of the presidency," Laird said of Johnson, adding that he expects the President to take some dramatic step in the war just before the Nov. 8 election.

Laird recalled that when President John F. Kennedy resolved the crisis over Soviet missiles in Cuba two weeks before the 1962 election, "A lot of our guys got caught on it."

Although the party out of power has picked up an average of 37 House seats in midterm elec-

The education explosion clogging classrooms from grade to graduate schools across the nation is also making itself felt at the preschool level. Enrollment figures, in terms of both total numbers and age-group percentages, are edging up in kindergartens and nursery schools. Of the more than 12.5 million children aged 3 to 5, some 3.4 million or 27.1 per cent were enrolled in public or private courses at the start of the school year last October compared with a 25.5 per cent enrollment for this age group the previous year, Health, Education and Welfare Department figures show. Enrollment ratios climb rapidly with age, from a low of less than 5 per cent of three-year-olds in nursery school to a kindergarten peak of some 60 per cent of all five-year-olds.

Fulbright Votes 'No' on Aid Bill

By HARRY KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J.W. Fulbright has driven in a new wedge to widen the foreign policy differences between himself and the administration.

Fitting deed to months of words of criticism, the Arkansas Democrat cast a vote of no confidence in a key administration foreign policy program.

After the Senate voted 55 to 37 to cut $100 million from the $892-million military assistance program, it passed the bill by an 82-7 margin Wednesday—but with Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, among the nay votes.

As committee chairman, Fulbright was what senators call "floor manager" for the administration's foreign aid program. The floor manager is supposed to be both advocate and defender of his bill. But Tuesday Fulbright voted "with misgivings" for the economic assistance part of the program.

After his "no" vote on military aid Wednesday he declared in a statement: "When economic assistance fails, the result is a breakdown or delay in some military assistance goes wrong, the consequences are much more spectacular."

And, like other opponents of the measure, Fulbright cited suspicions that American military aid to Pakistan "actually caused the war" last year because "if we had not provided the arms, Pakistan would not have been able to seek a military solution" of its Kashmir dispute with India, said Fulbright.

Most of the debate over the program centered on efforts to cut it from as much as $250 million down to $100 million, which the Senate finally accepted.

Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., complained that "this idea that if we chop out $250 million they might spend the money more wisely is a sad commentary on what makes America click."

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen acknowledged the five strike-bound airlines — United, Eastern, National, Northwest and Trans World — normally carry more than 60 per cent of the nation's air traffic.

edged that he had led the successful efforts last week to slash $250 million from the economic program but said he was not going to "jeopardize" national security by voting to reduce military items.

The military aid authorization joins the economic assistance authorization measure in a Senate-House Conference. There they will be considered along with a $4.1-billion foreign aid authorization for fiscal 1967 and 1968 which was passed by the House July 14.

Funds for the programs must be provided under appropriations measures.

Loss of Leg Doesn't Kill Her Spirit

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Two years ago, pretty Roberta Scott's left leg had to be amputated because of cancer. But her zest for living wasn't lost.

"I'd rather lose my leg than my life," commented the former runner-up in the Miss Oklahoma competition. "I get too much enjoyment out of life to sit and gripe about it."

Sitting isn't one of the things the 23-year-old Oklahoma State University coed does best — she's seldom still and her enthusiasms range from yard work, water skiing and painting to just cheering up others who have suffered setbacks.

"If anything," she says, "I have added to my activities rather than given any up."

Miss Scott often visits hospitals to "give encouragement to fellow members of the fraternity of the wooden leg."

A native of Ada, Miss Scott attended school in Tulsa. She was doing part-time modeling by the time she graduated from Will Rogers High School and included tap and ballet dancing, singing and summer stock theater work among her accomplishments.

In 1961, she was chosen Miss Tulsa and was second runner-up that year in the Miss Oklahoma beauty contest. She already had included a number of local beauty and talent trophies in her collection.

Admittedly interested in aiming for a career in the theater, she worked for her degree in elementary teaching with emphasis on music instruction.

When she was a senior, Miss Scott learned she had cancer. On Feb. 18, 1964, she entered the hospital. Her leg was amputated on March 4.

"God had his arm around me," she comments simply. "I didn't cry about it and I haven't."

The only complaint she is likely to voice is "Just after a rain, when it is hot and the tail grass is wet, I would like to be able to run across the pastures barefooted."

Her drive was obvious even just after losing the leg. Eight days after the operation, she slipped out of bed and hopped to a telephone to tell another patient she was already out of bed.

Miss Scott has returned to school, with her training now slanted toward special education for elementary students who are slow or retarded, the problem learners.

THE INLAND ROUTE

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP) — An ex-seaman is going back to sea in his own sailboat. Conrad Gustafson, 68, has embarked on traveling through the inland waterway system to Miami on a 14-foot boat that he built. He named the boat "Alice" after his wife.

Shipwrecked four times during his career as a seaman, Gustafson was born in Gefle, Sweden. He took to the sea at age 14 and sailed on various vessels until the 1920s when he came to the United States.

In 1919, after a ship bound from South America to Copenhagen sank, he was among five crew members of 19 who were able to get off the sinking craft. The five sailed 500 miles before they were rescued.

Television and Radio

By GALE GORDON (For Cynthia Lowry)
EDITOR'S NOTE—Gale Gordon is a familiar television face—usually apoplectic—that goes back to the old "Our Miss Brooks" and "Dennis the Menace" days. Here he writes, with vast affection, of the joys of playing straight man for Lucille Ball.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — I am sometimes stopped on the street or in a store by television fans and the routine usually goes like this:

Fan: Haven't I seen you some place?

Me (modestly): Oh, it's possible.

Fan (thinking hard): In the movies?

Me (losing confidence): Er, not recently.

Fan (in triumph): Aha! As soon as you spoke, I knew.

You're the banker in "The Beverly Hillbillies."

Thoroughly crushed at this point I try to salvage my pride, pointing out the error while still maintaining a cordial rapport with the viewer. I do play a banker, but it isn't the Bev.

Then I produce the magic word

— a short, simple word: Lucy. You have heard the old old question, "What's in a name? Let me tell you some of the things this one does. It's effect is immediate. I am suddenly treated like an exalted human being, all because I have seen, spoken to and worked with the one and only Lucille Ball.

My own regard for her is based on different and more personal bases. She is an attractive, vivacious and amusing woman, but she is above all a pro, a professional, I mean someone who is not afraid to work at his job. Lucy works harder than anyone I have ever met. A pro puts some kind of characterization in motion. Even during early rehearsals, Lucy gets into character just sitting around a table reading.

Real pros never stop learning. They are always alert to new ideas, and Lucy welcomes suggestions from cast and crew alike.

I love to play scenes with these great artists. These are moments that make years of struggle, disappointment and frustration worthwhile. When you share a scene with a fine performer, you don't have to act at all. You become for a moment the character you are portraying.

There are many attributes covered by the term "talent."

There is charm, humor, grace, a thousand other things, but there is a simple requirement very few possess: the ability to listen. Good actors listen to what is being said. Lucy is attentive to every syllable and inflection she hears from a fellow artist. No matter how many times a scene is rehearsed, she reacts the last time as if she was hearing it for the first time. I am often asked why I am so mean to Lucy. The answer, of course, is that the writers create the situation to begin with. But it also gives me great satisfaction to rant and rave and see Lucy's eyes get bigger and bigger — and I get louder and louder. I know she is enjoying it as much as I am.

While bread prices go up, sandwich fillings remain reasonably priced. Chicken, turkey and beef cuts are good buys across the country. Many areas are featuring chuck roasts and steak cuts. With specials on chicken, celery, carrots, and corn, most stores are geared for picnic planners. But prices are higher on some traditional picnic goodies — ice cream and soft drinks. Hard-boiled and deviled eggs are almost becoming special occasion luxuries. Egg prices are up again in many supermarket chains, with no relief in sight before fall. Most summer fruits are in plentiful supply.

Blossoms in Fashion

Gather ye flowers while ye may! Pick them in a variety of colors blossoming brightly on dark or light backgrounds. Two-piece dresses, snuggled frocks and sleeveless suits make you feel like you're trampling through a meadow.

August Is Month for Sandwiches

NEW YORK (AP) — August is "sandwich month" — and bread prices are going up for it.

Smaller wheat crops and rising milk and egg prices have upped the cost of bread by two cents on a one-pound loaf in many cities.

Prices of rolls and other bakery products are also expected to climb in the near future.

A Glance At The History Of Portable Light

In an emergency, handy portable light is a necessity and always has been. For centuries the ingenious have grappled with the problems of design and construction of portable light.

Back in 1492, Christopher Columbus brought with him to this hemisphere lamps that were mere open-ended saucers with cloth serving as wick and vegetable oil as fuel. These undependable, foul-smelling devices had been used for centuries.

The lights made in the Pilgrim century (1620-1720) were crude and simple; they included candles and "rush-lights." The rush-light was a holder which held between metal clamps an oil-soaked cotton-tail or dried and braided reeds. The holder was often mounted on a stand.

As cattle increased in the land, so did tallow and thus candles became more common. By the late 18th century, whale oil had become a popular fuel—particularly in New England. The most common lamp was an oil reservoir mounted on a shaft or base. Early in his career, Benjamin Franklin developed a two-wick system that drew more oxygen and hence gave more light. A whale lamp

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Size, Location of Tumor Are Determining Factors

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
 Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—Can a woman with uterine fibroids become pregnant?
A—Although in many women fibroids are a cause of sterility this is not universally true. The determining factors would be the size and exact location of the tumor.

Q—Is it true that in performing a Caesarean section the doctor is unable to tell where the baby is located? If so, isn't there danger that his incision will cut the baby?
A—There is no danger. The doctor's incision is not a blind stab but a careful dissection.

Q—A friend has been told that her left fallopian tube is completely closed and cannot be reopened. Her right ovary and tube are normal. What are her chances of becoming pregnant?

A—It only takes one. The other provides Nature's factor of safety.

Q—In the case of multiple births does each baby have a separate afterbirth?

A—If the babies sprang from the same fertilized ovum (identical twins), there would be a single afterbirth or placenta. If from separate ova (fraternal twins), each would have his own placental attachment. The question is academic, however, because frequently the separate placentas fuse and become one.

Q—Some people say fluorescent lighting is hard on the eyes. Is this true and does it cause eye strain?

A—Called the "bull's-eye" became popular. Lanterns of cow's horn or glass, hard and grooved, and candles were all used in the further settling of the country — on shipboard, at campsite or in covered wagons. In 1859, kerosene — a light, safe oil — was discovered. With its advent, lamps became more elaborate in design.

fluorescent lighting destroy vitamin A?

A—Fluorescent lighting has the advantages over a filament bulb that it gives a light more nearly the color of daylight, takes much less current to produce the same amount of illumination, and gives off less heat (infrared rays). The Illuminating and Engineering Society has made a thorough study of the subject. They found that fluorescent lighting is not harmful to the eyes and does not cause ocular discomfort if properly used.

Glare can result from any kind of illumination, including sunlight. The I and E Society has worked out standards of proper illumination, expressed in foot-candles, for various kinds of work and standards for proper installation, maintenance and use of artificial light. Fluorescent lighting is used in many food processing plants and has no deleterious effect on vitamin A or any other vitamin.

Q—How serious is the venereal disease called NSU?

A—These initials stand for non-specific urethritis. This disease has some of the symptoms of gonorrhea: urethritis but it is in no sense a venereal disease. It is curable and has no complications.

LOOKS GOOD TO HIM—Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien takes a long look at the design of the Polish Millennium stamp commemorating 1,000 years of Christianity in Poland. Polish officials have threatened to refuse all mail bearing the stamp because they say the eagle depicted is that of the prewar government, which was not Communist. The Poles want another eagle, which they say is a postwar Communist bird, put on the stamp, but the Post Office Department has no intention of changing the design.

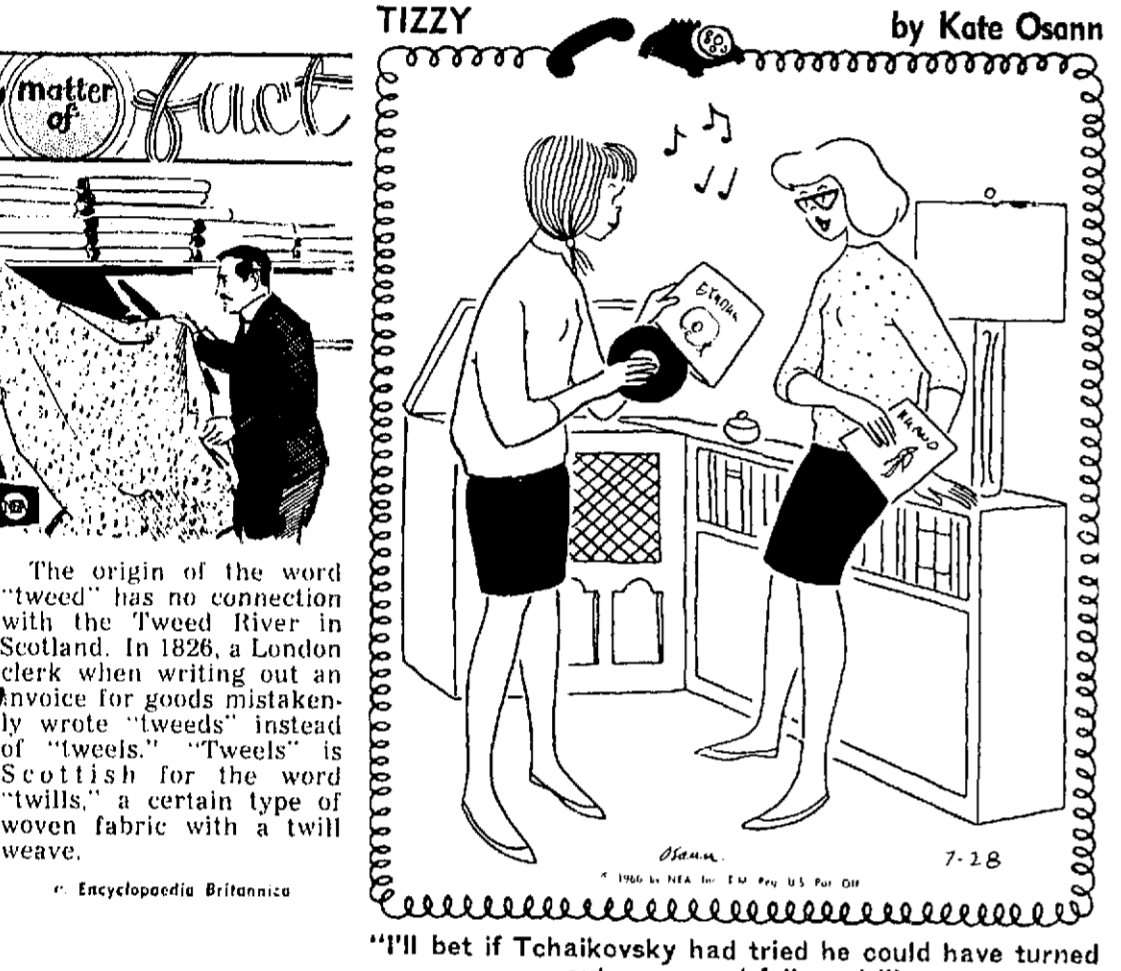

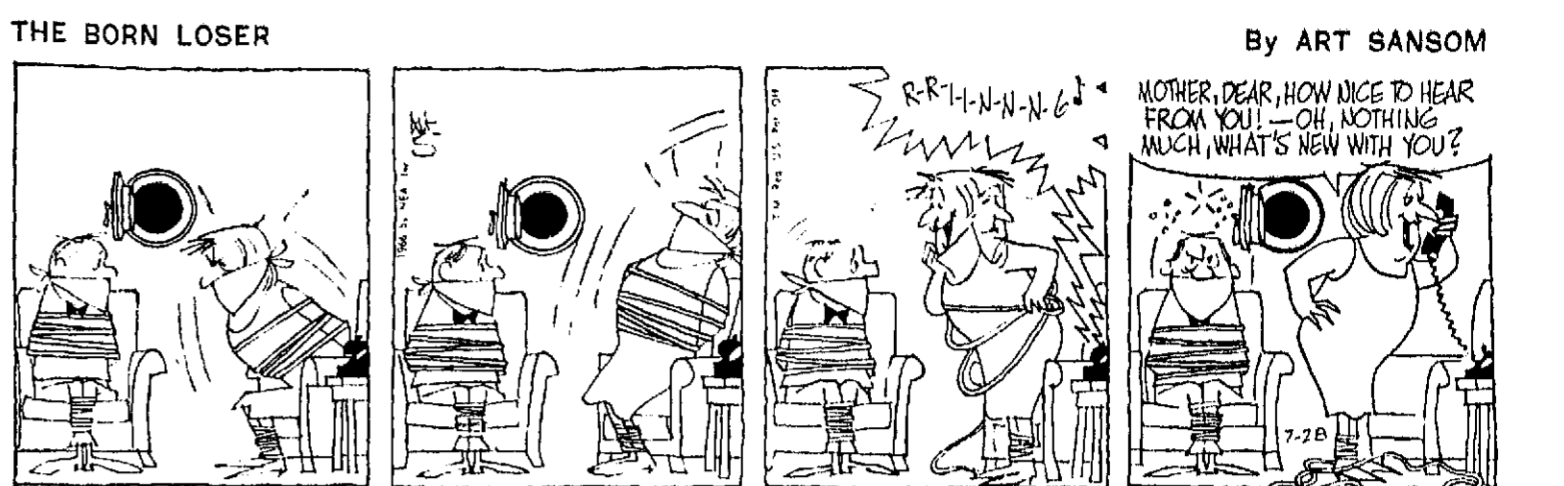

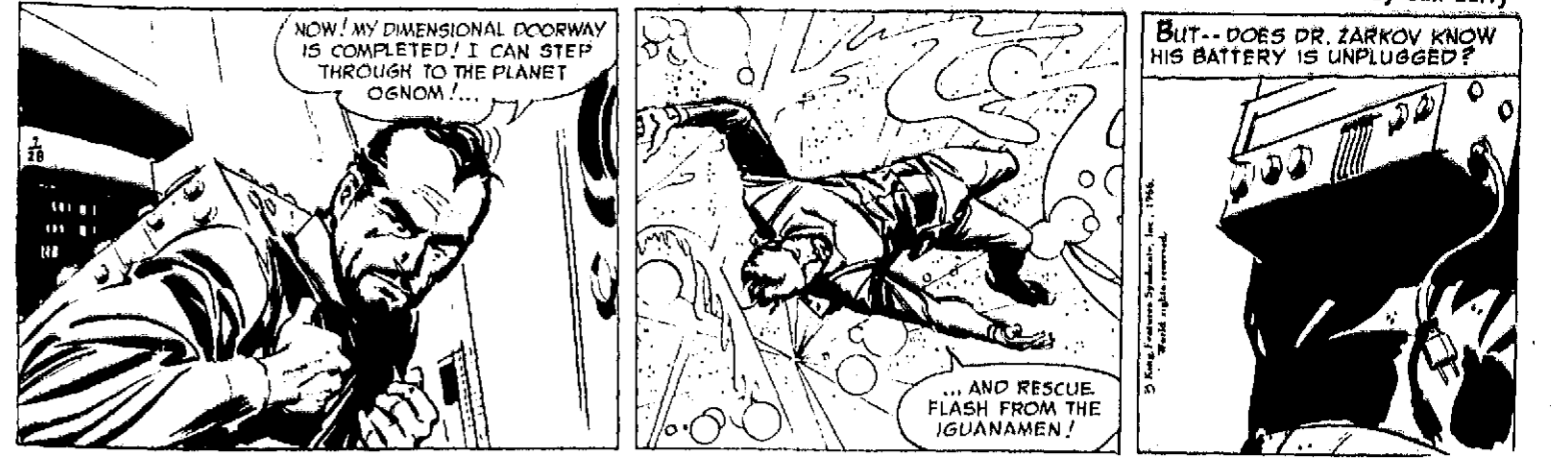

We wish to express our deepest appreciation to the many friends who demonstrated their love and compassion for our beloved husband, father, and grandfather during his illness and passing. Words alone cannot express our feelings to all who said a word, sent food, flowers, cards and other kindnesses. We thank this small way to say thank you.

"What do you mean, 'get lost'? I AM lost!"

"What's so much fun about listening to stereo? They sit around for hours without breaking anything!"

The origin of the word "tweed" has no connection with the Tweed River in Scotland. In 1826, a London clerk when writing out an invoice for goods mistakenly wrote "tweeds" instead of "tweels." "Tweels" is Scottish for the word "twills," a certain type of woven fabric with a twill weave.

WIN AT BRIDGE

Delayed Finesse Gains Bonus

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

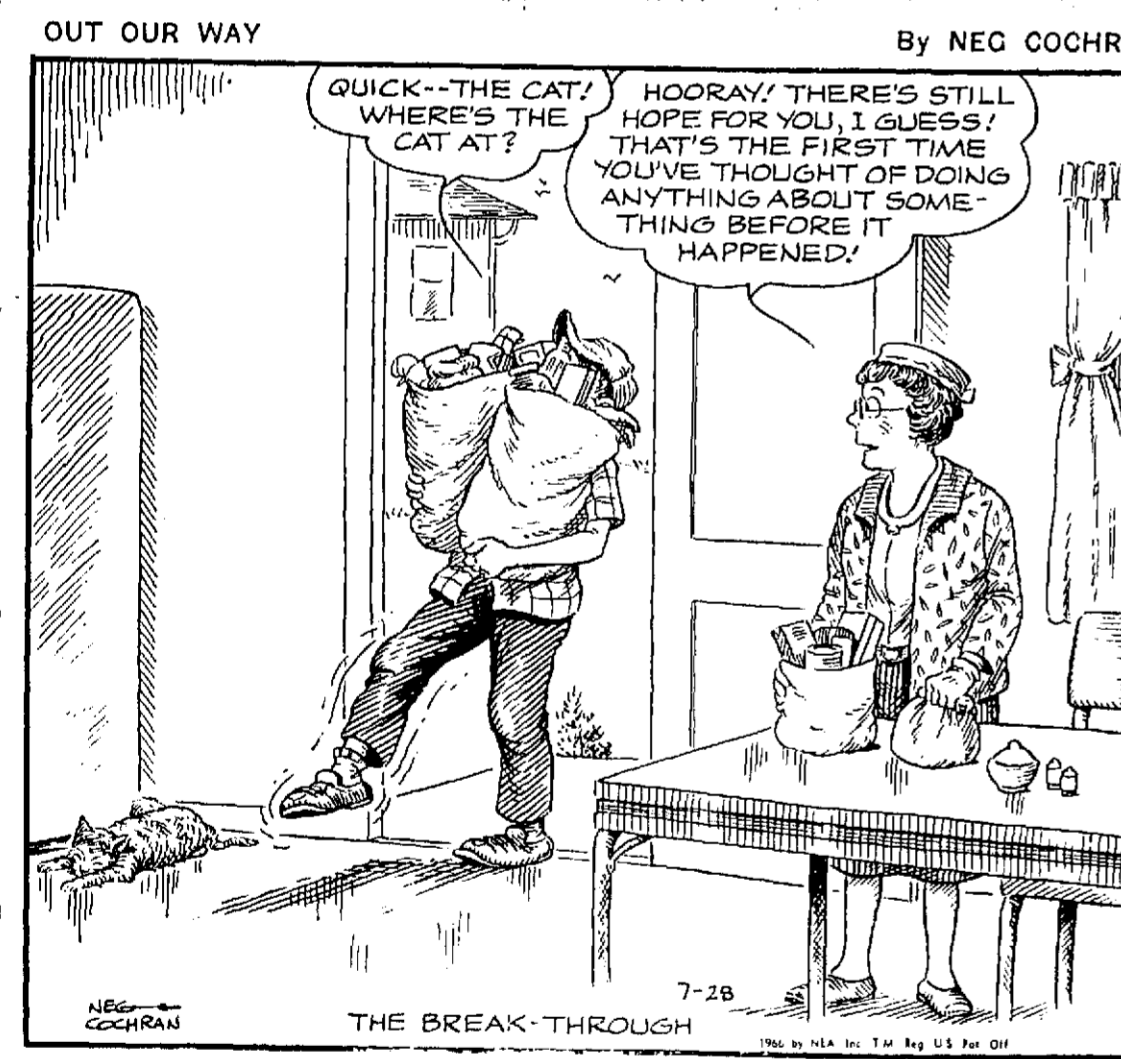

The delayed finesse is really in the nature of a safety play. The opportunity for it arises when you want to play a suit in which you hold the ace and queen but no spot cards of any value.

Playing at three no-trump South has to attack clubs sooner or later and the sooner the better. Most South players would win the heart opening in dummy in order to lead a club and finesse against the king. South wouldn't be too upset when the finesse lost but he would be likely to scream when a second club lead disclosed that the king had been a singleton.

Screams will die away to a murmur if he discovers that he still manages to make his contract.

Really good players have bad luck also but they have a lot less bad luck than others because they make it a point to take out insurance whenever possible. The correct play with this type of holding is to lead the ace of clubs immediately. If West holds the singleton king it drops and the insurance has paid off. If the king doesn't drop declarer goes over to dummy and leads a club toward his own hand. If East holds the king declarer's queen of clubs will still make because he has achieved the finesse effect anyway.

Once the king drops under the ace South should make four no-trump. He will abandon clubs temporarily to set up two spade tricks because he will be able to count nine sure winners this way. Later, he will have time to set up his last club for his tenth trick because West will be left with the thirteenth heart and thirteenth spade and no way to cash them.

Valentine's Bat Stars in 7-5 Victory

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer

All the sweet talk in the world won't help. Until they are treated more gently, the California Angels won't show any affection for Washington's Valentine.

Dan Cupid used a bow and arrow but gave Fred Valentine a bat and the Angels to hit against and the results are just as devastating.

Valentine walloped a grand slam homer and a double Wednesday night, driving in five runs as Washington whipped California 7-5.

His slugging was hardly unexpected by the Angels. Like a persistent beau, he's been pestering them all season. Valentine, batting .278 over-all, is hitting at an amazing .521 pace against California.

The husky Senators outfielder has had 25 hits in 48 swings against the Angels this season. He has driven in 38 runs, 20 of them against California.

He tagged his 10th home run of the season in the third inning against rookie Clyde Wright following bunt singles by Ed Brinkman and Ken McMullen and a fielder's choice which loaded the bases.

In the sixth, his bloop double scored McMullen, who had singled.

Brinkman had four hits for the Senators and Barry Moore won his second major league game in as many starts.

Elsewhere, New York downed Minnesota 6-3, Chicago blanked Detroit 5-0, Baltimore defeated Cleveland 7-1 and Kansas City routed Boston 14-2.

In the National League, New York nipped Houston 3-2, Cincinnati battered Chicago 11-2, St. Louis outlasted Atlanta 9-7, Pittsburgh topped San Francisco 5-3 and Los Angeles nipped Philadelphia 2-1 in 12 innings.

Bobby Richardson and Joe Pepitone walloped two-run homers and Horace Clarke drove in two runs with a triple as the Yankees downed the Twins.

Richardson and Clarke keyed New York's four-run first inning against loser Jim Kaat, 14-7, after the Twins had grabbed a quick 2-0 lead. Fred Talbot went the distance for his ninth victory, retiring 15 in a row over one stretch.

John Buzhardt pitched his fourth shutout of the season and Tommie Agee drove in four runs with a bases-loaded double and a sacrifice fly for the White Sox.

Tom McCraw had three hits, driving in one run and scoring another for Chicago.

Frank Robinson hammered his 30th homer of the season, one of three circuits for the Orioles as Dave McNally won his 10th.

Robinson connected with two on in the seventh after rookie Larry Haney and veteran Luis Aparicio had homered earlier. Del Crandall hit his fourth for the Indians.

McNally, who pitched a six-hitter, striking out eight, contributed three straight singles to the Baltimore attack.

Kansas City used 13 singles and bases-empty homers by Mike Hersberger and Jim Gosger to humble the Red Sox.

Jim Nash got credit for the victory, his fourth.

Hersberger had two singles to go with his first homer of the season as Kansas City snapped a four-game losing streak. Gosger's homer was his eighth.

NEW YORK (AP) — Bruce Kaplan has been captain of next year's New York University basketball team, it was announced today.

BRISTOL, Tenn. (AP) — Lawrence Allen Nida of St. Albans, W.Va., has been named head basketball coach at King, Tenn., College.

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (AP) — More than 9,500 season tickets have been sold for U.S. Air Force Academy football games this fall.

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — Rookie Wally Gahler fired a 21-yard touchdown pass with two minutes left Wednesday night to give Toronto a 28-27 victory over the British Columbia Lions in a Canadian Football League exhibition game.

Bill Munsey scored three touchdowns in 16 minutes for the Lions.

Exhibition Is Won by Jet Rookies

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Jets rookies beat the Boston Patriots rookies 14-13 Wednesday night in an unofficial start of the exhibition pro football season. And in a game-type scrimmage the Chicago Bears whipped the College All-Stars 31-20.

The regular pro exhibition season opens Monday night with Philadelphia at Atlanta in the NFL. The AFL exhibition season starts Tuesday night with Oakland at Houston.

Emerson Boozer of Maryland State scored the winning touchdown for the Jet rookies on a three-yard run in the last quarter of the game at Lowell, Mass.

The All-Stars, preparing for their clash with the Green Bay Packers in Chicago a week from Friday, made a respectable showing against the Bears in the scrimmage at Rensselaer, Ind.

A 70-yard TD run by Roy Shivers of Utah State provided the main fireworks for the All-Stars against the Bears who were led by Gale Sayers and Andy Livingston. Donny Anderson of Texas Tech also scored a TD for the All-Stars on a 10-yard end sweep. Each team was allowed 12 successive offensive plays in the game with 36 plays by each constituting a half.

Meantime a break seemed imminent in the various salary disputes when John Gordy, guard for the Detroit Lions, signed his contract. Ted Karras, Pat Studstill and Bruce Maher still are unsigned by the Lions.

Art Powell and Clem Daniels, Oakland Raiders stars, still are holding out although they worked with the team at Santa Rosa, Calif., Wednesday for the first time. General Manager Scotty Stirling told them he would not negotiate unless they came to camp. Each reportedly wants a three-year, no-cut contract at $50,000 a year.

The Denver Broncos announced the end of the "dissatisfaction" of quarterback Mickey Slaughter and John McCormick over their contracts, but quarterback John Brodie of the San Francisco 49ers continued his holdout in Hawaii.

End Earl Faison and back Paul Lowe of San Diego also are holding out, although it is reported that Faison is close to signing.

In the latest salary flare-ups, end John Mackey and back Jimmy Orr of Baltimore left the Colts' training camp.

Three other Baltimore veterans are unsigned, end Ray Berry, flanker Willie Richardson and place kicker Lou Michaels. Fullback Cookie Gilchrist of Denver is conducting his annual holdout.

Other holdouts include three St. Louis Cardinals, end Sonny Randle, flanker Bobby Joe Conrad and kick-return specialist Abe Woodson.

SHE DROPPED BACK

YATES CITY, Ill. (AP) — The high school dropout can return, better late than never.

Mrs. Eloise McMaster, 33, became a member of the Yates City High School's junior class last fall. She had been away 16 years.

"It is the most unusual and wonderful experience anyone ever could have," she said.

She said there was no particular reason for returning beyond a vague yearning for more formal education.

Her daughter, Georgia, 15, is only one class behind her, and a son, Fred, 8, attends the local grade school.

Dodgers Win Minus Arm of Koufax

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer

Sandy Koufax has given his aching left arm an 11-inning acid test . . . and proved that the Los Angeles Dodgers can win without him.

The Dodgers are within a whisker of the National League lead after Koufax' longest pitching ordeal of the season but all the matchless southpaw has to show for it are two more strikeout standards and a no-decision.

And Philadelphia's Jim Bunning knows just how Sandy feels.

Bunning and Koufax gave way to relief pitchers after a brilliant 11-inning duel Wednesday night and the Dodgers immediately pushed over an unearned run in the 12th for a 2-1 victory that stretched their winning string to six and put them only one-half game behind first-place Pittsburgh in the NL race.

The Pirates climbed back into the top spot with a 5-3 victory over San Francisco, dropping the Giants into second place.

Koufax, whose arthritic pitching arm became painfully inflamed after his last start — causing speculation that he would miss a starting turn for the first time this year — overpowered the Phillies except for a second-inning homer by Rich Allen. He yielded only four hits and fanned 16, breaking one of his own records and moving up a peg on the all-time strikeout list.

His fourth strikeout was the 2,267th of his career, moving him past Lefty Grove into 10th place among the lifetime leaders.

His 15th strikeout, in the ninth inning, was his 200th this season, marking the sixth straight year he has reached that plateau.

But, although Koufax also became the first hurler to pass the 200-inning mark — while lowering his major-league-leading earned run average to 1.65 — he failed to register victory No. 18.

Instead, Phil Regis, who pitched the 12th, gained his eighth victory against a single setback.

Elsewhere, St. Louis and New York continued to roll, the Cardinals downing Atlanta 9-7 for their ninth victory in the last 10 games and the Mets edging Houston 3-2 for a 10-3 mark over their last 13. Cincinnati battered Chicago 11-2 in the other NL game.

Kansas City blasted Boston 14-2, Chicago blanked Detroit 5-0, Baltimore trounced Cleveland 7-1, New York trimmed Minnesota 6-3 and Washington topped California 7-5 in American League play.

Jim Davenport, San Francisco's usually slick-fielding third baseman, committed two errors in the ninth, helping the Pirates push over two runs and regain the league lead by two percentage points.

Bill Mazeroski singled one run in and Manny Mota delivered the other with a sacrifice fly after Davenport threw wildly on Donn Clendenon's bunt single and then bobbled Jim Pagliaroni's sacrifice bunt for a second miscue.

Clendenon's solo homer and a two-run shot by Gene Alley completed the Pittsburgh scoring.

The Cardinals climbed within 7 1/2 games of the top behind right-hander Ray Washburn, who won his fifth straight with late-inning relief help and hit a double and his first major league homer, a two-run wallop in the five-run fourth.

Bob Friend combined with reliever Jack Hamilton for a six-hitter and gained his fourth victory in five decisions with New York as the Mets beat the Astros for the seventh time in a row to tie Atlanta for eighth place. Ken Boyer's two-run homer paced the Met attack.

Tommy Helms stroked three singles and a double, and Pete Rose and Vada Pinson added three hits apiece in the Reds' romp over Chicago. Rose and Leo Cardenas homered in a 16-hit attack that backed the seven-hit pitching of winner Jim O'Toole.

New Resort Opens on Lake Ouachita: Cafe, Cabins, Dock

By MAX LOVE,

Travel Writer

Arkansas Publicity and Parks Commission

An ultra-modern two-story cafe and grocery has been added to the landscape within Arkansas' beautiful Lake Ouachita State Park, thirteen miles north of Hot Springs on state highway 227.

The new facility — which opened for business recently — is located on the shore of the lake, overlooking the modern boat docks and swimming area. The upper floor of the building houses a combination cafe, grocery, tackle shop and has seating facilities for approximately 40 guests. This floor of the building is surrounded by an observation deck where guests can linger to view the aquatic activities taking place in the immediate area.

The ground floor of the building houses a large lounge room that is to be equipped with tables, chairs, a "juke box" and a smaller room where a coin-operated automatic washing machine and dryer soon will be installed for the convenience of park guests.

This new facility will be open for business at least 10 months out of each year — February 1 through November 30 — or longer, if traffic warrants.

Lake Ouachita State Park is one of central Arkansas' most popular playgrounds and vacation hideaways. Its nearness — 13 miles — to the internationally famous city of Hot Springs (and Hot Springs National Park) further enhances its popularity to vacationers, travelers and weekend guests.

The park, which covers 370 shore line acres on the east end of the big lake, six miles north of Blakely Mountain Dam was acquired by the state in 1955. In addition to its quiet scenic beauty and access to giant Lake Ouachita, the area occupied by the state park has a fascinating history centered around the famous "Three Sisters Springs" which flows from the side of a hill about 50 yards from the site of the new cafe.

Other facilities at the park include 14 air-conditioned house-keeping cottages of varying sizes completely equipped with all the modern conveniences necessary to insure a pleasant visit; 4 camping areas all located in picturesque settings with picnic tables, barbecue pits, running water, bath and rest rooms facilities; and electrical outlets for campers and house trailers.

The boat docks are located on the lake in front of the new cafe. Services include storage space which can be rented on a monthly or annual basis; a boat and motor rental service; and a marine service station.

Lake Ouachita is one of Arkansas' largest man-made impoundments. It was created by the constructed of Blakely Dam on the Ouachita River about 8 miles northwest of Hot Springs. The dam, a gigantic flood control and hydro-electric facility, was completed and placed into operation in 1953. The resulting lake is approximately 50 miles long, with about 1,000 miles of shore line. As the big lake filled, its waters surrounded numerous mountains, creating a chain of islands which make Lake Ouachita one of the most beautiful and exciting reservoirs in the country.

Its cool, blue waters have become famous as a fisherman's paradise. Here, black and striped bass, crappie, bream and several species of catfish grow to record breaking size, and because of Arkansas' moderate temperature, fishing is permitted the year round.

The lake also has become a mecca for other water sports enthusiasts. And, because of her enormous size and great depth — depths of 300 to 400 feet are not uncommon — she is "home base" for literally thousands of large houseboats, cruisers, sailboats and party barges.

Lake Ouachita is one of the most beautiful lakes in the state due to the fact that it lies almost entirely within federally owned land and there is little or no development to mar the pristine beauty.

Tony Lema and Wife Are Buried

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Lema's home town flew flags at half staff, funeral services were held today for professional golfer Tony Lema and his wife, Betty.

They were killed with two other persons Sunday in a flaming crash of a private plane on a golf course near Munster, Ind. He was 32, she 30.

Among the 12 pallbearers' names were fellow pro Ken Venturi of San Francisco and Tommy Jacobs, chairman of the Professional Golfers' Association Tournament Committee.

Eight Roman Catholic priests were to share in offering the Mass of concelebration at St. Elizabeth's Church. Burial was to follow at Holy Sepulchre Mausoleum in nearby Hayward.

Among the mourners was his mother, Mrs. Clotilda Lema, his two brothers and two sisters.

Hundreds of persons filed silently past the two closed caskets Wednesday at a funeral home in San Leandro, Lema's hometown adjacent to Oakland. The City Council ordered all flags half staff until after the burial.

gitator eaves Cuba or Asia

By THEODORE A. EDIGER
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Robert Williams, an American Negro who spoke for Fidel Castro advocating racial disorder in the United States, apparently has shifted his base of operations to Asia.

Williams preached U.S. black rebellion for more than three years in English-language broadcasts over the Cuban government-controlled radio. Japanese authorities have reported hearing him in recent broadcasts from Viet Nam and Red China.

Miami monitors of Havana radio noted that Williams discontinued his broadcasts last March. His weekly Radio Free Dixie program directed to U.S. Negroes continued for a while by a woman announcer.

For several weeks, Radio Free Dixie has not been heard, but observers of the Cuban scene say Williams' organization, Revolutionary Action Movement, continues to function in Cuba.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach has said in Washington that he is looking into the possibility of a connection between the Revolutionary Action Movement and racial disturbances in this country.

ment and racial disturbances in this country.

Wednesday, Williams was reported in a Red China broadcast monitored in Tokyo as having been a banquet guest of the China Peace Committee and the Chinese Committee for African-Asian Solidarity in Peking.

The Citizens Committee for a Free Cuba said in Miami that besides operating for the Castro government, "Williams is also connected with the North Vietnamese government, has traveled to Hanoi, and from there will broadcast to American Negro troops in South Viet Nam," urging them to lay down their arms.

Discontinued along with Williams' Havana broadcasts was "The Crusader," a "monthly newsletter" he edited in Cuba and distributed in the United States.

In one issue, he said: "The weapons of defense employed by Afro-American freedom fighters must consist of a poor man's arsenal. Gasoline fire bombs (Molotov cocktails, lye or acid bombs (made by injecting lye or acid in the metal end of light bulbs) can be used extensively."

In a broadcast early this year, Williams said: "The coming summer is going to be violent and bloody. Let our people organize, arm, unite and prepare for a war of survival and liberation. Prepare the razor, the switchblade, the bullet, the gas bomb and the match. Put the torch to the racist strongholds of the cities."

Williams, 41, and weighing 240 pounds, fled to Cuba in 1961 after being indicted in his home town, Monroe, N.C., for the kidnapping of a white couple in a racial disturbance. Four other persons have been convicted and sentenced in the case.

ENGLAND'S Nobel Prize-winning philosopher Bertrand Russell has appealed to the Soviet Union to provide planes for the defense of North Viet Nam against American air attacks. Russell said Premier Kosygin should give the North Vietnamese the means to defend themselves against "the U.S. military machine."

Shrimpers Rescue 51 on Cruiser

By WALTER GARY
PORT ARANSAS, Tex. (AP) — Shrimp boats heading into the Gulf of Mexico for a night's catch teamed for a swift and dramatic rescue of all 51 persons forced overboard as the sports fishing craft Marlin Queen caught fire late Wednesday.

The Marlin Queen, later wracked by an explosion, burned and sank. It was inbound through shark-infested waters when a passenger shouted: "Smoke! Smoke!"

"I couldn't imagine where it was coming from," said the vessel's skipper, Tom McNatt. "One of the deck hands opened an engine hatch and smoke billowed out, and flames."

"The crew shot carbon dioxide on it but didn't make any headway. That's when I told them to issue lifejackets and radioed a 'May Day.'"

Forty-eight passengers and three crewmen, including McNatt, scrambled off the stern of the burning craft into the sea — some into lifeboats — late Wednesday afternoon.

All were rescued within 20 minutes by shrimp boats operating in the vicinity. They got clear shortly before the blazing Marlin Queen's fuel tanks exploded.

The fishing vessel, valued at more than $80,000 burned to the waterline, listed and sank in 60 feet of water.

McNatt speculated that an electrical malfunction caused the fire. "All the instruments and gauges were normal — maybe a battery exploded," he said.

The Marlin Queen, owned by White Marlin Enterprise, was about 6½ miles off the coast after a five-hour fishing excursion.

Ky Is Good at Offending His Allies

By BARRY SCHWEID
WASHINGTON (AP) — By proposing an invasion of North Viet Nam and a confrontation with Communist China, South Viet Nam Premier Nguyen Cao Ky has demonstrated anew that he has a special talent for offending Western sensibilities.

Following Ky's advice would be an abomination, declared Sen. Mike Mansfield, the usually mild-mannered Senate Democratic leader. Administration spokesmen reacted firmly, though with considerable restraint.

"Our position of not seeking any wider war has been repeatedly made clear and remains our position," said Robert J. McCloskey, State Department press officer. "We do not seek to threaten any regime."

"The President's views on not wanting a wider war are pretty well known," said Bill D. Moyers, White House press secretary.

Clearly, once again, Ky and official Washington were at cross purposes, though the measure of stability the slender, 35-year-old pilot has achieved in Saigon is considered a blessing here.

In April 1965, two months before Ky became premier, he questioned the effectiveness of air strikes against highways, railroads and bridges in the North and proposed South Viet Nam's land forces move into the North.

"If we are just going to bomb communications lines the Viet Cong will be able to stand up for a long time, I'm afraid," he said. "So the next step must be big, either a big escalation of the war or negotiations."

For several months, however, intelligence officers in Saigon have been aware that the Red leadership was attempting to slip seasoned battalions into new battle positions.

The aim is a continuing effort to get men, rice and guns massed in some area where the Americans can be caught off balance and a dramatic victory scored.

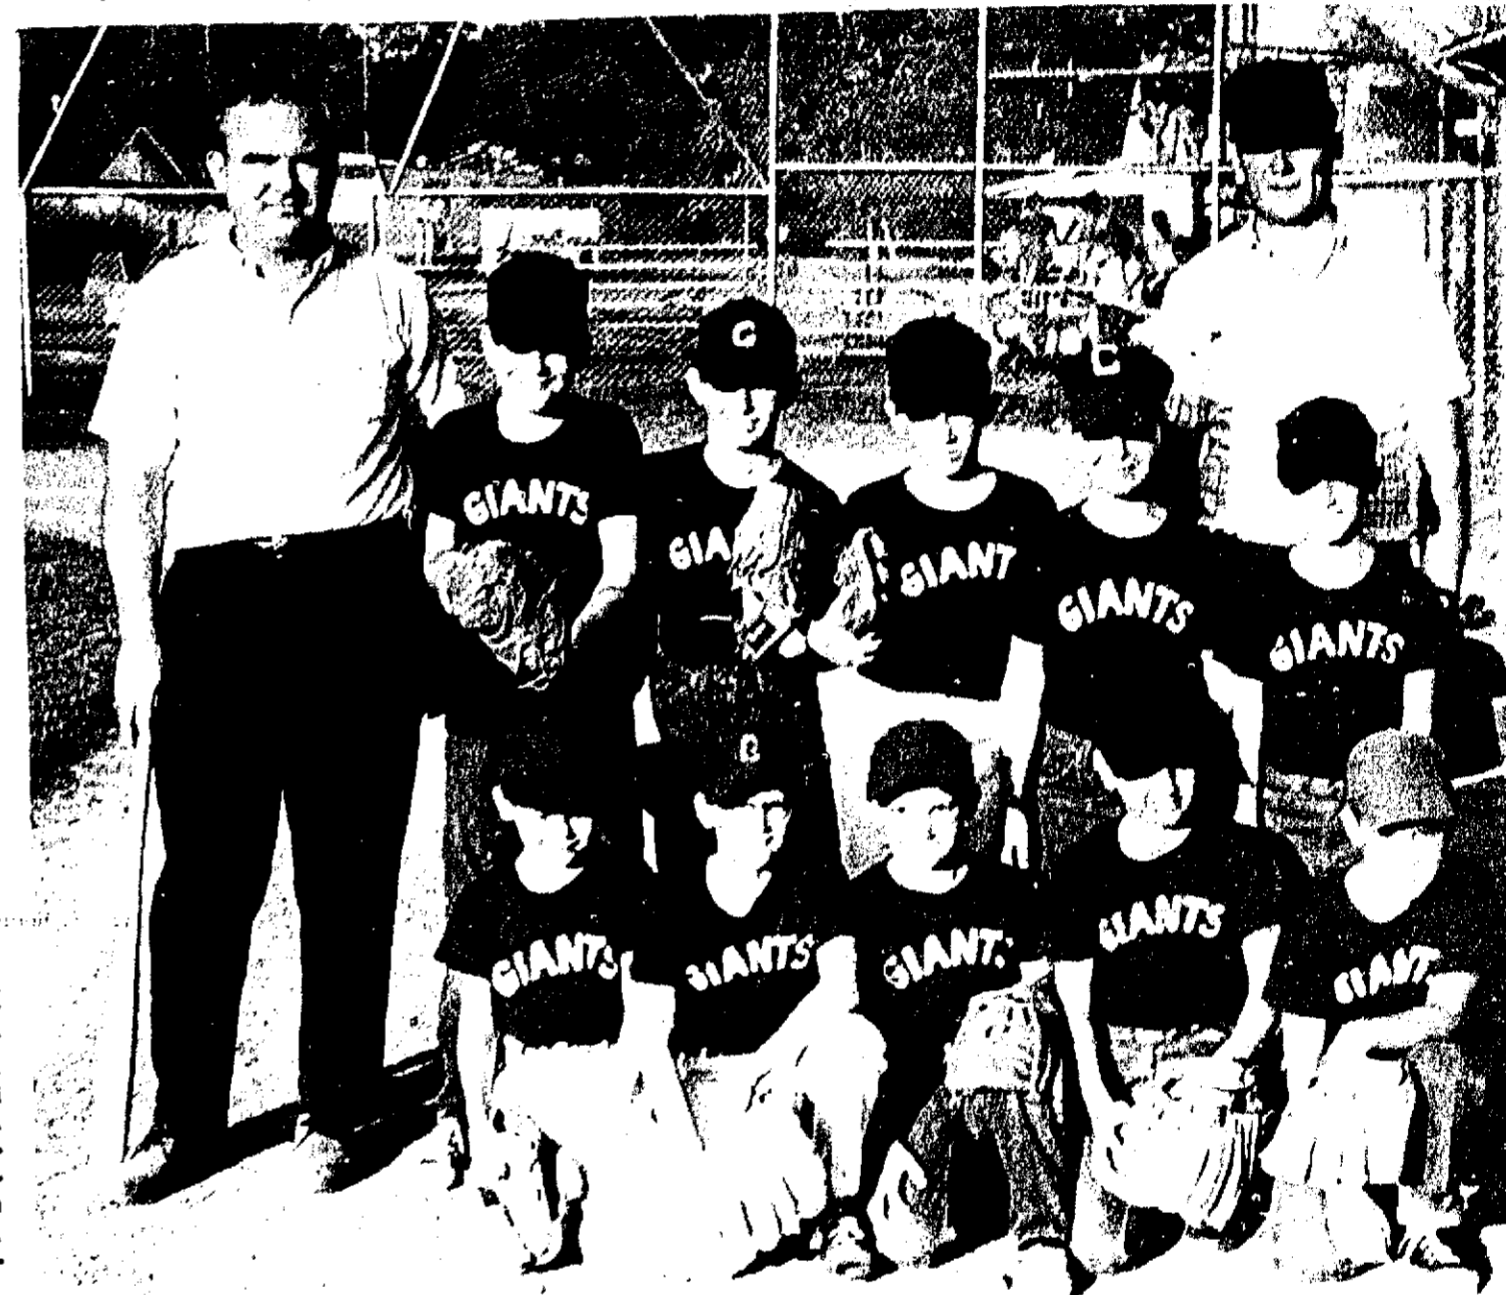

This regrouping has produced formidable concentrations in several critical areas. But the Red devotion to their long-tested tactics, coupled with new supply problems and fantastic American mobility, has thrown the timetable askew time and again.

For all major operations, and for many that are quite small, Viet Cong military leaders insist on time-consuming steps. They study their target with meticulous care. They hide rice and ammunition in advance. With maps and sandtable models

Soaring Summer

Maps show Weather Bureau's estimated forecast of average temperature, precipitation through August 15.

It should be warmer than usual over most of the area between the Continental Divide and the Appalachians but cooler in both the East and the Far West.

Central and Southern Plains promise to be drier than usual while above-normal rainfall is expected west of the Divide, over the Great Lakes and in the Southeast.

MORE LAND TO MULBERRY

NEW DELHI (AP) — Shafi Mohammed Qureshi, deputy commerce minister, said India has a great future in the international silk market.

There is no reason, he told a Bombay meeting of silk producers, why India's present 4.5 per cent share of the world market cannot be increased to 20 per cent in the next 10-15 years.

More land will be devoted to cultivating mulberry, on whose leaves silk worms feed, he said. He ranked India currently fourth in raw silk production, behind Japan, Communist China and the Soviet Union.

SALT-OF-THE-EARTH ADVICE

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Sign on a church in one of the suburbs: "You never throw mud without losing ground."

The aim is a continuing effort to get men, rice and guns massed in some area where the Americans can be caught off balance and a dramatic victory scored.

This regrouping has produced formidable concentrations in several critical areas. But the Red devotion to their long-tested tactics, coupled with new supply problems and fantastic American mobility, has thrown the timetable askew time and again.

For all major operations, and for many that are quite small, Viet Cong military leaders insist on time-consuming steps. They study their target with meticulous care. They hide rice and ammunition in advance. With maps and sandtable models they go over battle plans in minute detail.

This type of thing frequently leaves the Viet Cong exposed to the "spoiling operations" unleashed by the American commander, energetic Gen. William C. Westmoreland.

Westmoreland and his staff feel that these spoiling operations have been a big factor in forestalling any Communist monsoon offensive. They are aware, however, that the monsoon rains, which cut the effectiveness of American air power, will continue into late October.

Between now and then the political and military leaders hiding in the Tay Ninh jungles may yet order a desperate effort to get a Communist victory.

The vaunted North Vietnamese regiments have now been coming South for more than a year. They were told they would win and the story is wearing thin.

Communist propaganda had painted 1965 as "the year of decision" and that decision appears to be more remote every day.

The number of Viet Cong, and even North Vietnamese regulars, who desert or defect is inching up. The rate is admittedly low but it is enough to trouble the Red commanders who have recently, American authorities say, issued stern new orders to curb such things.

Although the total Communist force numbers some 250,000, the brunt of any big attacks will fall on what are called maneuver battalions.

Since the establishment of a National Seashore Recreational Area from Ocracoke, N.C., east and north to Whalebone Junction, visitors have flocked in increasing numbers to

'Nobody Wants to See Hitchcock Without a Body'

By BILL BYERS
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Alfred Hitchcock opened the door himself, waddled across the empty living room of his large hotel suite and sank into a wingback chair until it groaned.

The director, here to whet interest in his latest film this 50th, "Torn Curtain," was silent.

He sat there, hands folded on his immense vested stomach, and pursed his lips. Then with a familiar Hitchcockian pose, he stared through his visitor and listened to the quiet buzz of the air conditioner.

Finally, in his well-modulated British lisp, he asked his guest if he would care for a drink and was not at all displeased when it was declined. At 66, comfortable with pink jowls and a distinguished career, he finds no need to push.

His interest, as always, is his work.

"A director is not finished with a film until he sells it," he said, outlining a compact schedule of cities he will visit for "Torn Curtain" openings.

With false modesty aside, he declared his latest effort, which stars Paul Newman and Julie Andrews and concerns an American scientist who defects to the Reds, is "excellent entertainment which won't disappoint Hitchcock fans."

"As usual, I've tried to make the audience feel the anxieties of my main characters," he said. "This is the difference between me and the James Bond films. It's doubtful you're ever worried that Bond won't get out of his difficulties. He is superhuman. My heroes have always been the average man."

Hitchcock did admit that in recent years, since "Psycho," that his films have become "jazzier" and "sexier."

"The public today would be restless with a 'Rebecca' or 'Suspicion' yarn. They are too old-fashioned. Audiences demand more."

If audiences demand more, so do actors whom the director relishes in calling "children." He thought it was outrageous that Newman and Miss Andrews demanded and got $900,000 each for their services in "Torn Curtain."

"With them getting money like that, for the first time in years I, too, asked for a salary," he said, explaining that in the old days he always operated on a percentage of the profits. Now, it's too risky. "Torn Curtain" won't break even until it grosses $15 million.

He has no great interest to return to television where he hosted mystery shows for some 10 years on NBC and CBS.

"The budget for weekly shows are so appallingly low, you can't do very good work. I was amazed the fellow who caused all that trouble—Jim Aubrey—thought we could do a 'Psycho' every week on TV."

Does he ever plan to turn from mysteries to do straight drama or comedy?

He showed the visitor the door.

"I've been typecast," he said with a warm smile. "Nobody wants to see a Hitchcock without a body."

Igloo Oatmeal Cookies

IGLOO OATMEAL COOKIES team with cold milk.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Homemade cookies and a glass of cold milk all on a summer's day. Like the idea? If so, you'll welcome this new recipe designed for youngsters who are literally "nuts" about cookies—particularly those Mom makes.

These refrigerator Igloo cookies fit the summer schedules of busy mothers. Mix the dough whenever you have a few spare moments, shape into rolls and store in the refrigerator. When it's convenient (and cooler), slice the dough and bake.

IGLOO OATMEAL COOKIES (Makes 4 dozen)

- 1 cup butter or margarine, soft
- 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- 1/2 cup firmly-packed brown sugar
- 1 egg
- 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 1/2 teaspoon soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 1/2 cups rolled oats (quick or old fashioned, uncooked)

Frosting:
1/2 cup butter or margarine
3 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
1/2 cup evaporated milk
1 tablespoon light corn syrup
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 cup chopped nuts

Beat butter until creamy. Beat in sugars gradually. Blend in egg. Sift together flour, soda and salt. Add to creamed mixture, blending well. Stir in oats. Shape dough to form a 12-inch roll. Wrap and chill several hours or overnight.

Cut in 1/4-inch slices. Place on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake in preheated moderate oven (375 degrees) 10 to 12 minutes. Frost cooled cookies (see below).

For frosting, brown butter over low heat, cool to lukewarm.

World of a girl

Dear Cece: Next month my mother is planning to spend several weeks visiting my married sister and her family. I will be in charge of the house while she is gone, and I've told my brother I would pack school lunches for him while mother is away. Naturally I'd like to fix some sandwiches he'd really go for. Do you have any suggestions?

Dear Connie: You're just the kind of girl we've prepared our Sandwich Dial for. It's filled with new, lighthearted sandwich ideas for lunches and snacks. You'll want to send for a free Sandwich Dial right away, but until it arrives, here's a selection of winning sandwiches to get you started on those lunches:

PIZZA HERO: Split club rolls. Spread with oregano-flavored butter. Fill with layers of slices of salami, cheese and anchovy. Spread with chili sauce.

LONG BOYS: Fill hollowed French rolls with ham or tuna salad. Slice and reassemble for easy handling.

BAGGED BOLOGNA ROLLS: Roll slices of bologna around sweet gherkins. Seal two rolls in a buttered bag.

To save time, you can prepare these sandwiches the night before and keep them fresh in the refrigerator, sealed in a C.A.B. Plastic Sandwich Bag.

Dear Cece: I'm planning to have my date and another couple back to my house after the prom. It's not a dinner dance so everyone will be hungry and will want more than coffee or hot chocolate. My mother suggested scrambled eggs and sausage, but I'd like to prepare something that everyone will find interesting. What would be good for four people?

Dear Katie: Remember that you may be a little tired after an evening of dancing, so don't get carried away and plan something that you'll be too beat to prepare or enjoy. Keep your menu simple, and you'll be glad you invited guests instead of sorry. I'd vote for EASY CHEESY LOGS. To prepare them, butter halved frankfurter rolls and spread with sandwich spread or butter. Cover with half slices of Swiss cheese and ham. Broil until bubbly. Replace roll top. Two of these should satisfy male appetites, while one may be enough for the girls. I'd serve sweet and dill pickles with the sandwiches and offer your friends a choice of soft drink, milk, or coffee. To make clean-up easy, serve sandwiches on individual snack trays, spread with disposable paper place-mats and use plastic cups for beverages.

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — The nation and records desk at city police headquarters sometimes serves the public in unexpected ways.

A couple from Illinois stepped up to the desk recently and the woman asked, "Where can we play Bingo?"

The woman explained, "We just don't like night clubbing. We just want to play Bingo."

After a phone call or two, the officers on duty found the name of a church which was holding a Bingo game that very night.

Comedy of Errors
Likely in Every Election Edition

Handling the tabular matter for a newspaper report the day after an election is no job for people who are either nervous or slow in figuring. It's the deadliest job of the newspaper year.

We came off with a fair report in yesterday's Star, the top item being our 8-column tabulation of complete precinct returns from Hempstead county. Also, we cleaned up the Eighth Circuit races for judge and prosecuting attorney, with the help of the Texarkana Gazette, whose larger staff had been able to get telephone reports from all the counties in the Eighth district.

But the biggest job was the transcribing of the Hempstead county table. Everything else was in type style from our automatic Just-O-Writers, which take the place of Linotypes - but the county table was done on an office typewriter, whose tabulation "stops" came in handy. For this job our thanks go to Don Parker, advertising manager, and his assistant, Mrs. Jo Ann Burke. Mrs. Burke called the figures and Don did the typing.

But we also came up with a magnificent "bust" - and as the top guy I am of course to blame. We ran the Associated Press tables on the state races and neglected to include the names of the counties. At the time I should have been checking on how the tables were put together I was trying to wrap up the story of the Third District congressional race. We got the Third District story eventually, but the state tables were a mess.

The tables were to have been re-run today, but this morning the Associated Press delivered a brand new governor's table, and we are using that instead.

You may be interested in the complex method by which election tables are moved on the wire. A table is moved in three pieces: first the list of counties and each county's precinct total; second, the number of precincts reporting a half the candidates and their votes; and third, a table with the vote of the last half of the candidates.

Then all three tables are matched to make a single big table. We didn't match them yesterday - but today they are matched.

We weren't alone in our trouble yesterday. From our exchanges I note some of the papers skipped the tables entirely, and others came up with major errors.

Bill Cross New Head of Memorial

C.L. (BILL) CROSS

C.L. (Bill) Cross, assistant administrator since Dec. 1, 1962, has been named administrator of Hempstead County Memorial Hospital to succeed Charles W. Wilson, who is retiring Sept. 30, it was announced today.

The announcement disclosed that Mr. Cross' election actually took place at a special meeting of the hospital's board of governors July 22.

Mr. Cross came to Hempstead County Memorial Hospital as assistant administrator December 1, 1962. He has been connected with work in the medical field for the past 21 years.

He received his business administration education at Arkansas College, Batesville, and Arkansas State College at Jonesboro. In 1945 he was inducted into the Medical Corps of the U. S. Army and while in the service received technical training in anesthesiology, laboratory, X-ray, and a special course in all phases of hospital administration.

After being released from the U. S. Army in 1947 Mr. Cross served as director of laboratory and X-ray for Porter Rogers Hospital in Searcy. From there he went to Herber Springs, as director of laboratory and X-ray and while in Herber Springs he took the Army special extension course for hospital administrators, consisting of 26 different sub-courses, including all phases of hospital administration.

While serving as chief ward master in the hospital in Adak, Aleutian Islands, Mr. Cross delivered the first American baby, born October 10, 1946.

During the Berlin crisis he was called back into military service and while stationed at Fort Bragg, N.C., he received special training in automatic data processing systems and business machines. After being discharged from the Army he went to Booneville, as assistant administrator of City Hospital, coming to Hope from Booneville.

Mr. Cross is married, and has one daughter, Gail, and a son, Douglas. The Crosses are members of the Garrett Memorial Baptist Church and reside at 1607 East Eighth Street.

British Wilson to U.S. for Support of Nation's Currency

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON
LONDON (AP) - Prime Minister Harold Wilson flies to Washington today, and high political authorities said he would seek ironclad American support for the wobbling pound sterling during the next six to nine months.

Wilson was reported confident such a breathing space would provide the time his Labor government needs for its crash program of deflation to pull Britain out of the red.

The economic crisis, its implications on Britain's role in the world and the Viet Nam war will dominate Wilson's conference with President Johnson Friday.

Wilson will give the President a detailed account of his recent Moscow talks with Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin. The prime minister has claimed privately that these discussions produced a new understanding of the motivations, strains and stresses within the divided Communist

Legal Liquor Makes Bow in Biloxi, and Great Is the Joy

BILOXI, Miss. (AP) - Police cruisers, sirens screaming and lights flashing, escorted the big truck into Biloxi. The van sped to the plush Broadwater Beach Hotel.

A crowd of onlookers cheered when the truck's rear doors were opened, revealing 77 cases. Three were carried into the hotel by waiters.

Louis Cobb opened one, took out a bottle of scotch whiskey. He poured some into a glass with ice, added a dash of soda and handed it to T. M. Dorsett, the hotel manager.

"Ahh," said Dorsett, lifting the glass.

As Dorsett downed the drink in the glare of a floodlight, Mayor Dan Guice and other officials snipped a tricolor ribbon stretched across the entrance to the lounge.

There were more cheers.

It was 6:55 Wednesday night. Drinking on the Mississippi Gulf Coast isn't uncommon.

But Dorsett's tipping had special significance. It was the first legal drink of whiskey poured in Mississippi after 58 years of prohibition, which really never did work.

The Gulf Coast, particularly, never paid any attention to prohibition.

A score or more rushed into the Broadwater's lounge when the ribbon was severed by the mayor and County Supervisor Laz Quave.

"It's on the house," cried Dorsett.

And it was until the three cases were consumed. Then the cash register began to ring.

"It still tastes the same," said one drinker. "But somehow it seems better because it's legal."

Mayor Guice said the arrival of legal liquor "will be a boon to our tourist industry and industrialization as well as removing the hypocritical attitude which the state has had toward whisky."

Prohibition ended July 1 but it took 27 days for the state to put the machinery in effect to legally sell whisky.

Seven counties have already approved legal liquor sales. More vote on it within a few days. Liquor by the drink will be permitted only in areas designated by the state as resorts.

Mississippi was the first to approve the national prohibition amendment in 1919 and became the last state to repeal the ban on booze.

Seven from Hope are completing their second and final week at the 9th annual music camp on the campus of the University of Arkansas. They are:

Phyllis Elaine Gilley, Jim James, John King, Linda Sue Parsons, Tony Smith, Herbert Townsend, Ruth Ann Wylie.

American fliers also hounded at North Viet Nam despite bad weather limiting most of their 103 missions Wednesday.

The heavy air blows in the South accompanied a rise in small-scale Communist attacks as the Viet Cong stepped up hit-and-run attacks in the wake of their defeats in larger battles with U.S. troops.

The most significant of these assaults took place 18 miles from Saigon where guerrillas overran a village a few hours before dawn and drove off the 40 militiamen defenders.

While no major fighting has been reported since Sunday, a U.S. spokesman said American combat dead more than doubled last week, presumably as a result of U.S. Marine losses as the Leathernecks launched Operation Hastings against a North Vietnamese division near the northern border July 15.

The spokesman said 136 Americans were killed, 578 wounded and 14 missing compared with 65 killed, 368 wounded and no missing in the previous seven days. Total allied dead for the week of July 10-16 climbed to 334, compared with 279 the previous week.

Communist dead rose to 1,272, an increase of 72, the spokesman said.

The casualties brought the unofficial total of U.S. combat dead to 2,728 since Jan. 1 and to 4,440 for the war.

U.S. Air Force, Navy and Marine fliers flew 542 single-plane strikes in the record day in the South Wednesday. Vietnamese fliers added 284 more.

The Strategic Air Command's B52s made three raids today. Two were aimed at the Communist-held D Zone north of Saigon, the other at the hills just below the 17th Parallel demilitarized zone where the Marines are continuing the hunt for North Viet Nam's 324B Division.

A Navy A4 Skyhawk from the carrier Oriskany and its pilot was reported missing over North Viet Nam on a strike against a missile site near Vinh. It was the 311th plane reported lost over the North.

Although limited by typhoon weather, the U.S. fliers blasted 11 fuel dumps, including a big complex near Vinh and another at the nearby former army camp of Badon, a spokesman said. He said the pilots did not encounter any anti-aircraft missiles or Communist MIGs.

Hide-Out in Jungle Cong Nerve Center

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) - Hardly 75 miles from Saigon, the shadowy military and political leaders of the Viet Cong make their plans for victory over the Americans.

Their headquarters is deep within the matted jungles of northern Tay Ninh Province, a relatively short distance from sanctuary in Cambodia if need arises.

In terms of real political power, this jungle command post in Tay Ninh is only a way station to implement the orders of Ho Chi Minh in Hanoi. In military terms, however, the jungle planners plot the day-to-day outline of their war in Viet Nam.

Increasingly, they seem to concentrate on one overriding problem. How to win a showpiece victory from a major American unit.

At the Communists' disposal are some 250,000 fighting men. They have a fulltime guerrilla army seasoned by years of war. There are crack North Vietnamese regulars infiltrated from Hanoi. And they have a host of peasant soldiers who hide their guns by day.

Backing them up is North Viet Nam's 600,000-man regular army which by U.S. estimate, is sending some 5,000 replacements South each month.

A little over a year ago this force was clearly on the way to victory in Viet Nam. The tactics which had bled and defeated the French were grinding the South Vietnamese army to pieces.

Despite the mounting influx of American troops the Communists confidently started to shift into what they call "phase three" - the open-battle climax which the dogma of Mao Tse-tung says will end guerrilla war victoriously.

There is every evidence that the Viet Cong strategists are sticking to Mao's doctrine, although it has resulted in a bloody series of battlefield defeats.

The escalation required by Mao - and implemented by Hanoi's Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap - posed tremendous supply problems for the Communists at the same time American helicopters and jets were making this hazardous.

By re-equipping units with Soviet and Chinese weapons the Communists burdened themselves with the need to bring almost all ammunition from the North - a 1,000-mile supply line for remote units. The Red field force requires at least 150,000 pounds of rice daily.

23-Day Jungle Trek Ends in His Rescue by U.S. Helicopter

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) - Lt. (j.g.) Dieter Dengler fidgeted excitedly with the hoist as the big green helicopter hovered 150 feet overhead in the remote valley in North Viet Nam during the final moments of his ordeal.

Exhausted, hungry, blistered on his feet, the Navy pilot from Pacific, Calif., was hauled aboard the rescue ship after a 23-day trek through the jungle wilderness and flown to a U.S. military hospital in Da Nang.

Some six months after his plane had plunged into enemy territory, Dengler, 28, became the first American to escape from the North Vietnamese. For security reasons, the U.S. military command kept details of the escape secret but let his rescuers tell today how they snatched him from North Viet Nam on July 20.

Air Force Lt. Col. Eugene P. Deatrick of Morgantown, W. Va., spotted the German-born flier on a reconnaissance mission just north of the 17th Parallel frontier as his Al Skyraider swept over a deep valley crossed by a stream.

"I passed over a bed of rocks across the stream and saw someone waving a white flag at me," said Deatrick, commander of the 1st Air Command Squadron.

The big chopper made one pass over Dengler, then went into action to pull him out of the jungle. By noon, the helicopter man had him on board.

Glazed Grapes Pastry Delight

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Thompson seedless grapes are festooning the produce stalls of our markets. Prices are reasonable, the grapes sweet and plump. So now is the time to enjoy them often and in many ways—in recipes for fish, seafood, puddings and pies. Here is a delightful variation of the seedless grape theme.

GLAZED GRAPES provide summer bakery treats.

- GLAZED FRESH GRAPE TORTE
(6 Servings)
- 1 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
 - 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1 teaspoon grated fresh orange peel
 - 1/2 cup butter or margarine
 - 3 tablespoons milk
 - 1/4 cup fresh orange juice
 - 1 cup sugar
 - 2 tablespoons all-purpose flour
 - 2 egg yolks
 - 1/2 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
 - 1 cup water
 - 1 tablespoon cornstarch
 - 1 pound Thompson seedless grapes
 - Fresh orange sections

To prepare shell for torte sift together the 1 1/2 cups flour, confectioners' sugar and salt. Add orange peel and butter; cut until mixture resembles coarse meal. Add milk; mix lightly to form dough. Roll on lightly floured board. Fit into 9-inch flan or pie pan. Bake in preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) 35 minutes. Cool; set aside. To prepare orange cream filling combine orange juice, 1/2-cup of the sugar, the 2 tablespoons flour and egg yolks in top portion of double boiler. Blend thoroughly. Place over hot, not boiling, water and cook until thickened, stirring occasionally. Cool thoroughly; set aside. To prepare glaze combine water, remaining 1/2-cup sugar and cornstarch. Cook, stirring constantly until clear and thick. Cool; set aside. Remove grapes from stems; cut in half. There should be 2 cups. Set aside. To arrange torte, fill baked pastry with chilled orange cream filling. Arrange grapes over filling and spoon syrup over all. Chill. Garnish with orange sections, if desired.

Rotisserie Roasts Many Meat Cuts

Cooking meat on the spit of the outside grill calls for a roast that's easy to "balance." Fresh ham roll is one choice. So are boneless pork loin, beef Delmonico (rib eye) roast, boneless pork shoulder or lamb, a rack of spareribs or a large bologna sausage.

It's a combination of primitive and modern, this cooking on the rotisserie! Certainly, it goes back a long way in the history of cooking to roast meat under the sky over a bed of coals. Just as certainly, however, man of old did not have tender meat, boneless, rolled and tied to put on a spit that turns. Meat retailers have responded to a demand for the compact, shaped, boned roast that balances easily and turns well on a rotisserie rod. When it's cooked, there's literally nothing to carving a cut like this, points out meat authority, Reba Staggs.

Fresh Ham Roll: this will weigh between 9 and 12 pounds. It is like a regular ham, without the curing and smoking. Cook it at moderate temperature (350 F.) until the roast meat thermometer reads 185°F.

Rolls Pork Loin: most markets feature these in 4 to 6 pound sizes, although it's possible to buy one for a party in the 7 to 8 pound size. Loin cuts, as revealed by recent research, can be roasted satisfactorily by the time the roast meat thermometer registers 170 F.

Beef Delmonico Roast (rib eye): this is made from the beef standing rib with the outside fat and muscle covering removed. It will weigh between 4 and 6 pounds. Roast until meat thermometer reads 140 F. for rare; 160 F. for medium; and 170 F. for well-done. Allow 18 to 20 minutes per pound for a rare roast, 20 to 22 for medium; 22 to 24 for well-done.

Wig Quick Answer to Hair Woes

By PATRICIA KING
Beauty Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Today, just as four centuries ago, owning a wig is a mark of high style. It also has become a vital part of a chic woman's wardrobe.

Queen Elizabeth I had as many as 80 wigs which she wore over a shaved head.

In 18th century France wigs became more and more elaborate until the revolution cut them off. Heads and all!

No longer in the luxury class, wigs are the modern answer for looking glamorous when the need arises.

Now a woman can have a beautiful coiffure while traveling, for the unexpected party after swimming or for the other times when her own hair collapses or is growing out.

Here are some important facts you should know about a wig:

A properly fitted wig will not come off accidentally. A few pins will anchor it down for extra assurance.

With a little practice a wig can be put on in less than three minutes.

It can be worn right after hair has been washed. The owner simply dries her hair and slips on her wig.

The frequency of cleaning required by a wig depends upon how often it is worn.

If it is worn constantly, a wig may require cleaning every four to six weeks, less often if worn only occasionally.

A wig set will last much longer than a woman's own hair set since it is unaffected by her natural scalp oils. She also doesn't sleep in her wig.

Now for a few tips on how to put on your wig:

First, pin up your hair. If your hair is short, however, it need not be pinned. Be sure to insert bobby pins downward to hold small quantities of hair. This keeps the pins from spreading apart, leaving no exposed ends to tear the wig netting as you put on your wig.

To lift the wig off the block (always keep it on a wig block) hold down the base of the block with one hand. Use the thumb and index finger of your other hand to grasp a small amount of hair near the front of the wig and gently pull the wig off the block.

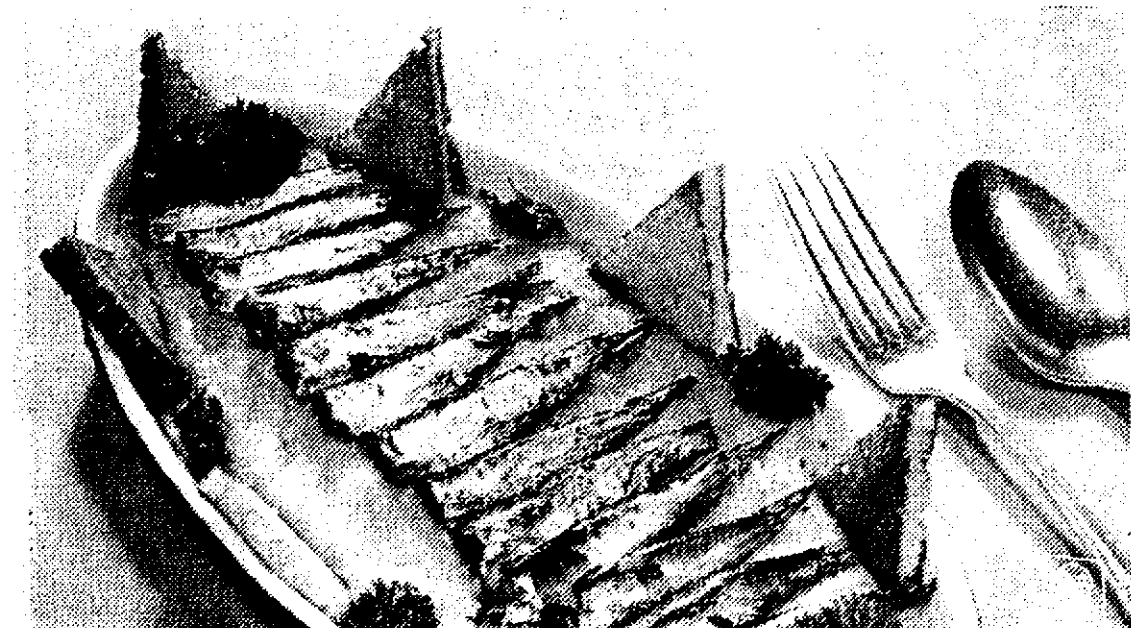

Bring your free hand inside the wig to grasp an end of the elastic section located at the back of the wig cap. Shift your other hand to grasp the opposite end of the elastic section. Stretch the elastic with both hands, to bring the wig out to its full size.

With both hands holding the elastic, place the front against your forehead, midway between your eyebrows and hairline. Then slip the wig down slowly over your hair.

Make final adjustments by grasping a small batch of hair in the front and back of your wig. Gently shift the front of the wig to come even with your own hairline.

Pull a few strands of your own hair out in the front and on the sides and brush them back over the wig to give a more natural look.

Norway Sardines Pack Zip

NORWAY SARDINES add real zip to your scrambled eggs.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Brunch on Sunday or on any other day when there is time is a gracious and uncomplicated way to entertain.

We were invited to a Saturday morning brunch (11 a.m.) at a country house in Connecticut recently. The meal was served on a terrace shaded by elm trees. The scrambled egg dish was particularly interesting.

NORWAY SCRAMBLED EGGS AND SARDINES
(Serves 2)
1 (3 1/2-oz.) can Norway sardines
4 eggs

1 tablespoon tomato catsup
1 oz. butter
4 slices buttered toast, cut into triangles
Salt, pepper to taste
Parsley (garnish)

METHOD: In a bowl, mix the eggs, catsup, salt, pepper with an egg beater. In a skillet melt the butter over a low flame and scramble the eggs, stirring white cooking. As soon as the eggs begin to set, place drained Norway sardines over the eggs and cook for a few minutes longer. Arrange on serving platter or in a ramekin. Decorate with buttered toast triangles and parsley bouquets. Serve hot.

WILD TURKEY CHARGE
WILLOW SPRINGS, Mo., (AP) — White had no more than sounded his turkey call when a wild turkey heaved toward him, over the hill about 100 feet away. The turkey split.

White said the bird's charge was unprovoked. The wild turkey thrashed its tail and wings, and the hunter's wife said she saw the bird's tail feathers and saw the bird's head.

Sausage Bakes With Apple Slices For a Tempter

Savory pork sausage patties with cinnamon-sugared apple slices can come to breakfast, lunch or supper! The dish has a simple goodness which appeals either by itself or in combination with other foods.

For patties which are at their palatable best, meat authority, Reba Staggs suggests shaping and browning the pork sausage patties before they're placed on top of the apples for baking.

Serve this as a lunch or supper with freshly baked bread, or with pancakes or waffles and chilled glasses of milk.

Sausage-Apple Bake
1 1/2 pounds fresh bulk pork sausage
2 cans (20 ounces each) unsweetened, sliced apples, drained
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon

Shape sausage into 12 patties. Cook until lightly browned on both sides. Combine apples, sugar and cinnamon. Place in an 8-inch square baking dish. Arrange patties on top of apples. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) 30 minutes. 6 servings.

English Favorite, American Style

You don't have to travel to England to enjoy steak and kidney pie. We have enjoyed it in London several times. Now we have adjusted the basic English recipe slightly using American corn meal for a flaky topping and to add an extra flick of flavor.

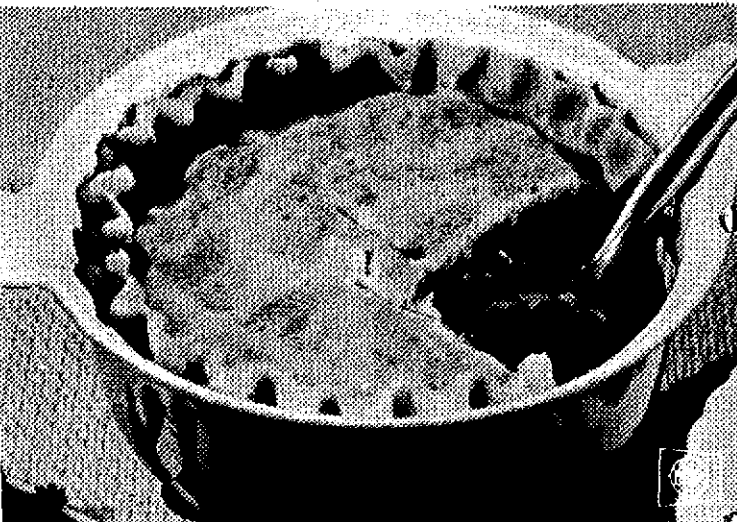

You'll find it a good dish, no matter on which side of the Atlantic you eat it.

STEAK AND KIDNEY PIE
(Serves 6)

1/2 lb. beef kidney
1 1/2 lb. round steak
2 1/2 cup all-purpose flour
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 lb. fresh mushrooms, sliced
2 1/4 cups water
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1 bay leaf

Pastry Topping:
3/4 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 cup enriched corn meal
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shortening
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
3 tablespoons COLD water

Cut kidney and round steak in 1-inch pieces. Combine flour, salt and pepper. Reserve 2 tablespoons of the flour mixture. Dredge meat in remaining flour mixture. Sauté meat, onion and mushrooms in shortening. Add 2 cups of the water, Worcestershire sauce and bay leaf. Cover; simmer about 1 1/2 hours or until meat is tender. Remove bay leaf. Combine reserved flour mixture and remaining 1/4 cup water. Add to meat mixture, stirring constantly until thickened.

For pastry topping, sift together flour, corn meal and salt. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Stir in parsley. Add water, a tablespoon at a time, stirring lightly only until mixture is dampened. (If necessary, add a little more cold water to form ball.) Turn out on lightly floured board or canvas. Roll out to 1/4-inch thickness.

Pour meat mixture into 2-quart casserole. Top with pastry; flute. Cut slits in top of pastry to allow steam to escape. Bake in preheated very hot oven (450 degrees) 12 to 15 minutes.

BEAUTIFUL HANDS AT HOME

Beautiful hands are just as important as a beautiful face. Your hands are noticed when you're eating, dancing, working—in every busy activity.

"Protection" is the key word in hand and nail care. Hands need protection from the drying action of too much water and from abrasive objects. For heavy cleaning and long exposure to water, wear rubber gloves.

When washing hands, always use a mild soap. Rinse in cool water and towel-dry, pushing the cuticle back from each finger tip as you dry.

Daily diet is also a factor for lovely looking nails. For healthy nails put emphasis on protein (meat, fish, eggs) and calcium (milk, cheese) in your eating habits.

For your once a week manicure, it's no longer necessary to go to a professional manicurist. Dominion now has an electric manicure kit containing all the items needed for professional results. Packed in a compact case, this handy kit can be used at home or while traveling as it easily slips into a suitcase.

First, thoroughly remove old polish with remover. Wash and dry hands.

To shape nails, use Dominion's electric Nail Shaper with long, even strokes in just one direction. File toward the center to create a rounded nail that follows the lines of your fingers.

After shaping, smooth the edges with the Fine File attachment. Soak finger tips in warm soapy water for about two minutes. Dry hands thoroughly.

To loosen cuticle, gently push the Cuticle Loosener against the cuticle. After all cuticles are pushed back, insert Cuticle Brush in electric handle and brush away dead cuticle. Gently clean under nails with an orange stick wrapped in cotton.

Buff nails by dipping felt Nail Buffer in pumice powder and moving buffer lengthwise up the nail surface. Wash hands in warm, soapy water and press dry.

Now you're ready to apply new polish. The secret of even polish is to keep hands steady and flat. Place hand palm down on table and hold nail polish brush like a pencil. Steady your arm on the table and apply polish.

Start at the base of the nail and smooth toward tip with a base coat. Letting each coat dry before adding the next, apply two thin coats of polish and top with a sealing coat. Let nails dry for a half hour or more and smooth lotion on hands.

Don't Discard Good Tools Because the Handles Break

By MR. FIX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The head of the tool is good, solid steel. The handle is made of wood—comfortable to handle but not nearly so durable.

No need to throw away a perfectly good hammer just because the handle breaks. Your local hardware store has a handle for almost any tool. Take the old handle along so that you can match it as nearly as possible. Some trimming will be needed, but with careful picking you can keep this to a minimum.

Get the right type of handle as well as the right size. A hammer handle is not like a hatchet handle and a hatchet handle not like one for an ax.

Procedure in replacing the handle on a hammer, hatchet, ax or sledge is pretty much the same. Try to saw off the broken handle as close to the tool head as you can. Tap out the remaining part of the handle. You will have to place the tool head in a vise.

If tapping doesn't work, try matter of careful trimming. Keep trying the fit, using a plane or rasp to remove the excess wood. Don't remove too much at one time; you want a tight fit.

Saw Needed

Make a cut in the end of a handle about 1½ inches deep. Use a saw. This is for one of the wedges. Drive the handle into the eye of the tool as far as you can. Cut off whatever sticks out the top of the tool, making the handle flush with the head.

You will need three wedges to make the handle secure. A wooden wedge is driven into the saw cut. That expands the handle against the sides of the tool. (The cut is made along the long dimension of the handle end.) Cut off the wedge so that it is flush with the end of the handle. Next, drive two metal wedges across the wooden wedge.

Handles are available for garden tools. Again, be sure to match the old as closely as possible. Some tools are of the socket type with the handle fitting into a socket of the tool—such as spades and shovels. Rivets secure the handle and these will have to be knocked out. Use a metal drill to cut off the heads. Center punch first to keep the drill bit from slipping.

With the rivets out, you can knock the end of the handle out of the tool socket. Hammer it out if you can't pull it out, but do not attempt to burn it out, since this will destroy the tool's temper.

Shape Handles

The new handle will have to be shaped. With the handle and tool assembled, place in a vise and, with the parts held together, drill holes through the handle, using the holes in the tool socket as a guide. Insert rivets and flatten the heads with a hammer.

Shank type tools are generally rakes and hoes with a pointed shank driven into a hole in the end of the handle. A metal ferrule then protects the end of the handle. Drive the old tool out of the broken handle. It is driven into the end of a new handle, expanding the wood against the ferrule (wooden sleeve) around that end of the handle.

CLIP AND SAVE

breaking up what is left of the old handle. Drilling a few holes in the wood will do it. Use a drill bit capable of going through metal so that it will not break if it hits a metal wedge.

Fitting the new handle is a

Iced Coffee Year-Round Cooler

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Did you know that there are many people who drink iced coffee right through the year, not only in hot summer weather?

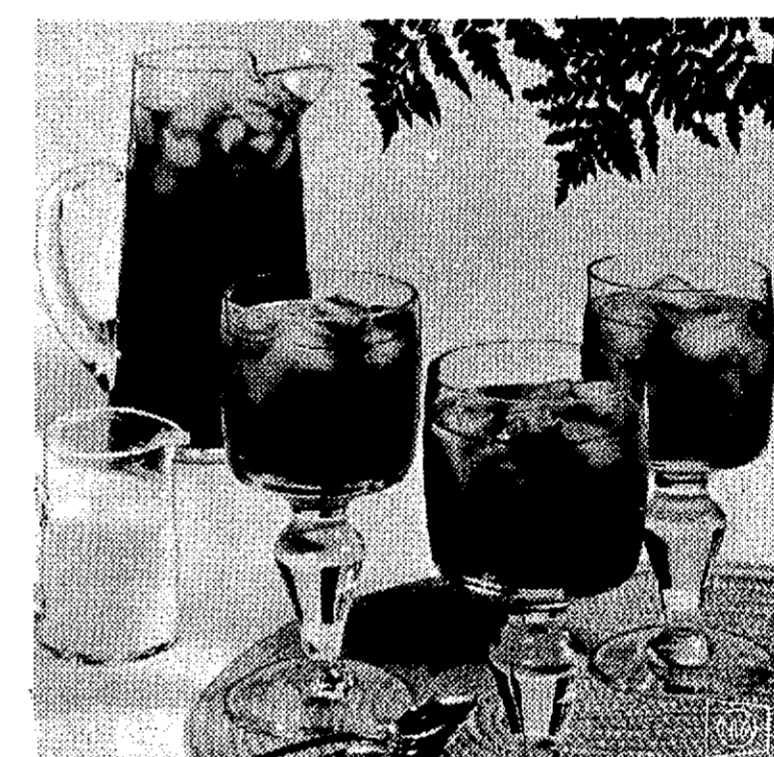

But, of course, most people will think of iced coffee as a perfect summer cooler, bracing, distinctly flavored. It can carry a few or no calories if you go easy on sugar or use non-caloric sweeteners and forget all about cream. Try it without sugar or cream for a while and you may discover you like it better that way.

There are various ways to prepare iced coffee.

1. Precooled coffee. Make it strong. Use one approved coffee measure (two level measuring tablespoons) of coffee to each ¾ measuring cup of cold water. Precool in tightly covered, nonmetallic container.

2. Instant iced coffee. Use twice as much instant coffee powder as you would normally use per cup. Add a little cold water and stir until coffee dissolves. Then fill glass with ice cubes, add a little more cold water and stir.

3. Coffee Ice Cubes. To make cubes, use normal strength coffee left over from the breakfast coffee. Freeze quickly in refrigerator ice tray. To serve, pile coffee ice cubes in tall glasses and then pour in normal strength hot coffee. The melting ice cubes will not dilute the coffee.

Some "way-out" coffee fanciers like to sweeten their iced coffee with anisette sugar, available at specialty food stores. Others pour hot double-strength coffee over cinnamon sticks, cloves and allspice berries (allowing a half cinnamon stick, 1 clove and 1 allspice berry per serving) and let stand for an hour. This is poured over ice and sweetened to taste.

Bridal Consultant: The Bride's Best Friend

Formal or informal? How should I select it? When do I use it? These, and many other questions asked about dinnerware, are answered every day by bridal consultants. This bride-to-be, getting advice from Beisy Abbott, bridal consultant for B. Altman and Co., New York, has selected a new dinnerware pattern, Azura, from Taylor, Smith & Taylor's "Design 70" line, for combination formal and informal service.

A bride's gown may be traditionally white, but it's difficult to predict the colors she will have in her new home.

She can find color in almost any home furnishing. Even dinnerware is changing from white to vibrant blues, greens and yellows, says Dinnerware Designer Joan Gilkes.

If the bride is in a dilemma about patterns and colors, he suggests she rely on a bride consultant for the answers. A consultant will help her select the colors and patterns that will best complement her own personality and taste.

A basic recommendation is to choose dinnerware to fit your own needs and tastes. Use colors that flatter your complexion and let yourself be influenced by what your friends have in their homes. Gilkes offers these important tips in selecting dinnerware.

Dinnerware is used every day. Look for the color and pattern that doubles for informal and formal service.

Interior decor should influence your choice. A dinnerware color and pattern can match or contrast other colors in the home, according to your personal tastes.

Rely on your own tastes. Colorful patterns come in a wide range, choose the one that suits the requirements of your home. Select a color and pattern you like—and use it to full advantage to make your home sparkle.

It is helpful for brides to register their pattern preference in dinnerware, according to consultants. To register, however, is not enough. Family and friends should be notified where you are registered to avoid the duplication of gifts.

Gilkes predicts color will highlight dinnerware as never before. He has just designed a new dinnerware for Taylor, Smith & Taylor, called "Design 70." "Design 70" points up the trend to color, features five color patterns in ceramic ironware, all styled to home furnishings trends.

It's Power To Give

Give a gift that operates under its own power, and you'll be giving freedom and ease of motion as well. These battery-operated items, independent of cord and electrical outlet, are numerous.

For the bartender, there's an ice crusher and a blender to make drink mixing convenient wherever he may be.

A meticulous homemaker would welcome a high-powered hand vacuum brush to remove dust from clothes or upholstery, and a shampooer for use in the home and automobile.

More power-contained suggestions: electric card shifter, letter opener, room or fresher, patio lights and a pencil sharpener. The latter may be obtained in the form of one of three books; the third volume has an opening for sharpening purposes.

Equally desirable is an electric power action peeler, peels, slices, and grates fruits and vegetables.

Do You Believe it?

"THE TEN BEST learning years of your life are between the ages of 23 and 33. During that period, your 'power of assimilation' is at its all-time high." —BRUCE BLIVEN, JR. in the year 1954.
